Activity 2*(25 points)Read the article about the Ecotourism and answer the questions.What is ecotourism?

There are lots of names for these new forms of tourism: responsible tourism, alternative tourism, sustainable tourism, nature tourism, adventure tourism, educational tourism and more. Everyone has a different definition but most people agree that ecotourism must:

1. Conserve the nature and culture of the area.
2. Benefit the local people and involve the local community.
3. Be sustainable, and don't destroy natural resources.
4. Provide an experience that tourists want to pay for.

If you want to apply the principles of ecotourism wherever you go for your holiday, remember these basic rules:

- Be prepared. Learn about the place that you're going to visit. Find out about its culture and history. Learn a little of the native language, for example, how people say 'Please', 'Thank you', and 'Good Morning'. Think of your holiday as an opportunity to learn something.
- Have respect for local culture. Wear clothes that will not offend people. Always ask permission before you take a photograph. Remember that you are a visitor.
- Don't waste resources. If the area doesn't have much water, don't take two showers every day.
- Take as much care of the places that you visit as you take of your own home. Don't buy souvenirs made from endangered animals or plants.
- Walk or use other non-polluting forms of transport whenever you can.
- Be flexible and keep a sense of humor when things go wrong.
- Stay in local hotels and eat in local restaurants. Buy local products whenever possible and pay a fair price for what you buy.
- You also should think about how you are going to get to your destination. Remember that flying is one of the biggest sources of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere.
